Greetings,

We are grateful for this opportunity to introduce to you Greenville Presbyterian Theological Seminary, which is currently celebrating its 25th year of service to God, our community, state, nation and world. We are particularly proud to be a part of an Upstate South Carolina community which reflects in a special way the blessings of a Christian culture. In our immediate community of Taylors, we have helped to enhance the quality of Main Street through the now 3-year-old renovation of the old Taylors High School building. This restoration has earned the grateful support of THS alumni, who are pleased to see the home of their alma mater preserved and beautifully renewed.

Greenville Seminary is a trans-denominational, international, non-profit graduate school providing theological training for men entering the ministry of the Christian Gospel and others preparing for international missions and religious service. Among America's theological seminaries, GPTS fills a special role in the preservation, defense, and advancement of the historic Christian faith as it developed through the Protestant Reformation.

Greenville Seminary depends on the contributions of supporters for some 80 per cent of its financial resources. This is due to the fact that we are a small institution and have committed to keeping our students' tuition burden and potential indebtedness as small as possible. We therefore depend heavily on fund-raising efforts to meet our material needs.

One of these efforts comes in conjunction with our 25th Anniversary celebration. On March 12, 2012, we plan to hold a special Benefit Dinner and Silent Auction. For the Auction to succeed, of course, we must have quality goods and services to offer to our dinner guests who may wish to participate.

Would you be willing to support this effort with a tax-deductible donation of a beneficial auction item? This presents a unique advertising opportunity for you or your business as we will include your name in our dinner/auction program and auction display. We are grateful for your consideration.
